WHY SHOULD REGISTER?

The nation's first Sickle Cell Disease Patient Powered Registry gives individuals with sickle cell disease and sickle cell trait a way to receive information about what is going on with sickle cell, current advocacy initiatives, information about treatment options and therapies, and information on research studies.

Get Connected collects and stores information about people living with sickle cell. All information is stored on a secure server at the headquarters of the Sickle Cell Disease Association of America, Inc. in compliance with the federal privacy regulations of the Health Insurance Portability & Accountability Act (HIPPA). This law requires that all identifiable health information be protected (your name, address, phone number as it relates to your past, present or future health issues). You must give permission for your information to be stored and your personal information can only be shared with your permission.

There is power in numbers. The registry will provide information on the number of people currently living with sickle cell disease in the United States. This information can be used to request funding support for research and treatment—bringing us another step closer to finding a cure. The registry will help you keep your medical history up-to-date in one electronic location. You can access your information from a computer or smart phone and share it with health care providers.

When you register, you will be able to receive a continuous stream of newsletters; participate in community forums; and other information about sickle cell. You will be able to stay up-to-date on the sickle cell community and maintain your medical history. This will allow the sickle cell community to become stronger and more unified to help build better health care solutions across the country. Your input will help identify critical needs and form a voice to support vital research. This can lead to the development of care improvement guidelines needed all over the country.
